Showflake Sound Slide
Cut out the showflakes here to use with the showflake slide activity or if you would rather use foam snowflakes, buttons or painted/dyed snowflake shaped pasta. Students say the word in the picture and move a snowflake into the box for each sound. Self correcting cards for checking answers.

Nonsense Word Iceberg Races
Cut out these playing pieces above to use as player identification for this game. You may also use decorative erasers, buttons or some other kind of playing piece. My suggested method for using these game boards is to place them on a cookie sheet. Glue the playing pieces above to a small button magnet. Students then take another magnet and read the nonsense words as they move their playing pieces along the icebergs. Another student is the timer. Students may record their results to see their improvement each time they play.
